SMITH & RAGSDALE
INTERIOR DESIGN

Smith & Ragsdale Interior Design is an award-winning, full-scale interior design firm based in Dallas and Austin, specializing in highly functional kitchens and thoughtfully appointed interiors. They believe interior design should not be painted with a broad brush; it must be looked at through a microscope. Every kitchen, bath, and other interior space has unique solutions achievable through expert planning. The firm’s mission is to design interiors that reflect their client and their unique lifestyle. They aim to deliver well-designed spaces in which the function, materials, and client-experience converge. This is achieved through careful investigation, thoughtful collaboration with clients and trades, and keen attention to detail from project inception through completion. With a combined 30-plus years of experience in the residential design and home-building industry, principal designers Abby Smith and Abbey Ragsdale have fine-tuned their design process with your experience in mind.
